

January 2021

JUUstice Washington Organizational News

2020 Northwest Justice Summit

This year's Summit was a HUGE success and we thank you all for your presence and participation! Let's keep the momentum going and stay connected throughout this new year and well into the future. Summit webpages are being updated with the information and activity gathered over the two sessions including summaries, links to videos, links to resources and more, so keep checking back. We will be following up with you individually and as groups, so please stay in touch with us about what you're working on and let us know when you need support. One way to communicate your needs is by adding them to our community needs spreadsheet, we pull from this for announcements, calendar updates, and more.

If you did attend our Summit please take time to submit an evaluation

*This project was funded in part by the Fund for Unitarian Universalist Social Responsibility.

JUUstWA Board adopts the 8th Principle

December 20, 2020: The Board of JUUstice Washington has unanimously adopted the 8th Principle and we will be encouraging UU congregations throughout the PNW to consider adopting the 8th Principle as well.

Be it resolved that the Board of JUUstice Washington has adopted the 8th Principle which states:

"We, the Board of JUUstice Washington,
Washington State UU Action Network and member of CUUSAN, covenant to affirm and promote: journeying toward spiritual wholeness by working to build a diverse multicultural Beloved Community by our actions that accountably dismantle racism and other oppressions in ourselves and our institutions."

Get more information on the 8th Principle here.

Environmental Justice Action Team. Environmental Justice Calendar

January 6th at 4pm JUUstice Washington's Green New Deal Action Team subgroup meeting. To find out more about the Green New Deal check here. To obtain Zoom link, email Sharon at office@juustwa.org or actionteams@juustwa.org

Two legislative bills to watch will be reintroduced this legislative session that have a direct impact on environmental justice issues. Both bills will likely be assigned new bill numbers but you can view previous bills to orient yourselves on the goals of the bills.

The Washington STRONG Act, developed by Rep. Debra Lekanoff, D-Bow, Rep. Sharon Shewmake, D-Bellingham, and Sen. Liz Lovelett, D-Anacortes, enables new financing tools that will stimulate the economy and create jobs, transition to a clean energy economy, and fund investments that benefit families, businesses, and communities across Washington. Read more here and watch for it in the WA legislature.

The Washington HEAL Act will be making its way through the legislature again this session, althoughh because it's a new session, it will be assigned a number legislative bill number. Passing the HEAL Act, will define and enforce environmental justice in our state, ensuring communities unfairly burdened by cumulative environmental health impacts will be at the front of agency directors' minds as they make decisions about environmental policy, enforcement and investments. The HEAL Act ensures cross-agency accountability to communities most burdened by environmental health impacts – and to closing the health disparity gap in our state. So far, 89 diverse groups across our state agree that it's time for our state to ensure ALL in Washington have a right to a healthy environment — clean air and water where we live, work and pray. Ancestral Waters. For three years, the Puyallup Tribe has fought against and raised awareness about the liquefied natural gas (LNG) facility currently being built on the Tribe's ancestral land, known today as the Tacoma Tideflats. Construction began without key permits or meaningful consultation with the tribe but the facility can still be stopped in court. Earth Ministry/Washington Interfaith Power & Light is coordinating screenings of Ancestral Waters in faith communities across the region. If you would like to schedule a screening and discussion in your spiritual/religious community, please contact maddie@earthministry.org. For more information on the film visit Native Daily Network.

Wellness for Activists

DeeplyRooted: "And God is the Water" with LYLA JUNE /176. This week, Lyla June gifts us with a poem that rides with the rushing current of Creation and beckons us to wade into the ever-moving stream of life. Allow Lyla's poem to wash over you, to uplift your capacity to find strength, forgiveness and connection in times of adversity. May Lyla's testament to the ancient power of water and geologic time invite deep healing and love into your life. Listen to Lyla's podcast here and check out other inspirational podcasts at For The Wild.
